THE COLLEGE

HISTORY

For many years Rocky Mount had a dream. It was the dream of a college in the community. The dream would not die in spite of disappointments; so in 1956 representatives from the Rocky Mount community offered The Methodist Church approximately $2,000,000 in cash and pledges, an adequate site, and continuing annual support of $50,000 if the conference would erect, operate, and support a senior college in the community.

In June of 1956 the North Carolina Annual Conference, Se.J., of The Methodist Church, under the leadership of Bishop Paul N. Garber, gratefully accepted this proposal. In September the church granted a charter to Rocky Mount College stipulating that it be operated by the Board of Trustees as a coeducational senior liberal arts college of the conference. North Carolina Wesleyan College — the amended name chosen seven months later — was officially chartered by the State of North Carolina on October 25, 1956.

Financial campaigns in the community and in the conference pledged $4,000,000 for the capital construction of this college. The M. C. Braswell heirs gave a 200-acre site just north of the city.

W. Jasper Smith, first chairman of the Board of Trustees, was chosen to guide the early development of the college. He became the first business manager of the young institution. Smith, a prominent businessman from Bethel, North Carolina, had served more than fifteen years as conference lay leader.

The Board of Trustees interviewed architects from Boston to Atlanta before selecting the firm of Lashmit, James, Brown, and Pollock of Winston-Salem to design the college. Plans were drawn for liberal arts facilities to accommodate 600 dormitory students and 200 more day students.

In June 1958 the first contracts were let and construction began on the central heating and maintenance building. Campus development began with clearance and drainage; the distribution of campus utilities was then prepared.

On March 20, 1959, the Reverend Thomas A. Collins of Raleigh, North Carolina, was chosen to become the first president of North Carolina Wesleyan College. Collins, a ministerial member of the North Carolina Annual Conference of The Methodist Church, had served the preceding six years as the executive director of the Conference Board of Missions. Before this he had served pastorates in Atlanta, Georgia; Gatesville and Raleigh, North Carolina.

In May 1959 contracts were let for the Administration Building, the Science Building, and the Academic Classroom Building. The contracts called for their completion prior to the enrollment for the first freshmen in September of 1960.

Dr. Jack W. Moore was appointed first dean of the college, effective February 1, 1960. Upon his arrival the selection of faculty members began. Miss Lois Collins was appointed as director of admissions and the enrollment of the first students began.

In May 1960 contracts were let for the construction of three additional buildings: the Women's Dormitory, the Men's Dormitory, and the Cafeteria-Student Union. These were completed for the use of students in the fall of 1961.

The first students arrived at Wesleyan on September 19, 1960. Ninety-two day students registered in that first freshman class, and North Carolina Wesleyan College emerged from a dream into reality. The next year 210 freshmen and sophomores enrolled, and in the third year, 1962-63, the three classes totaled 349. In September 1963 all four classes, for the first time, were enrolled. On May 31, 1964, thirty-three seniors were graduated, and Wesleyan began making its mark as a senior liberal arts college.

Thanks to its many and very loyal supporters, Wesleyan has become a college of recognized quality in three short years: a college with a growing student body, an excellent plant, and a well qualified faculty.

AIMS OF THE COLLEGE

A distinctive characteristic of the Christian college is that it finds its basic faith and philosophy in the Christian religion. Vitalized by the knowledge and love of God, guided by the teachings and presence of Christ, and committed to employing all means required to develop a Christlike conscience, North Carolina Wesleyan College seeks to become an excellent school of higher education to meet the needs of its contemporary culture.

To be specific, its aims are four:

- 1. Dedication to the highest standards of academic excellence. This should be marked by at least four steps: involvement, application, critical thinking, and commitment.
 - a. The student must become involved in the broader implications and relationships of his studies.
 - The student must form the habit of careful, honest, and industrious application to academic and personal responsibilities.
 - c. The student must be encouraged to form the habit of - careful, honest, and critical thought. Critical thinking finds its values in ideas, gains humility through understanding, and teaches respect for the rights of others to reach a personal conclusion.

- d. The student may then become committed to the quest for greater knowledge of truth.
- 2. The free search for truth in all areas and aspects of life. The honest teaching of knowledge with well-founded claim to truth.
- 3. The cultivation of all aspects of man's finest appreciation—artistic, intellectual, spiritual.
- 4. The inspiration of students to give themselves fully to the glory of God and the service of mankind in their chosen fields.

LOCALE

The college is easily accessible; it is on U. S. Highway 301 three miles north of Rocky Mount, North Carolina, where U. S. Highway 64 and State Highways 97, 43, and 48 all intersect. North-south rail facilities are afforded by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad; air travel by regular Piedmont Airline flights from the nearby air terminal; and bus connection by scheduled runs in all directions from Union Bus Station.

Rocky Mount is 120 miles directly south of Richmond, Virginia; 55 miles northeast of the State Capital, Raleigh; only a little farther than 100 miles west of most of North Carolina's famous beaches; and about 250 miles east of the scenic and equally famous Appalachian Mountains.

Rocky Mount has a population of 34,000 who quite generally consider the college one of its finest assets. While it is a modern commercial city, Rocky Mount still retains the culture and climate of "easygoing" eastern North Carolina. The city offers a wide variety of stores and services, medical specialists and hospitals, recreational facilities, and cultural opportunities. Regular bus schedules are maintained between the college campus and the heart of the city.

The city is located along the fall line separating the flat agricultural Coastal Plain from the rolling hills of industrial Piedmont. Rocky Mount was named for the large granite mounds at the Falls of the Tar River. Legend has it that near here Cornwallis' soldiers forded the stream. Some tar from the then thriving naval stores industry had been dumped in the river. Upon discovering their feet sticky with tar, they declared that everyone wading streams in the state would surely get tar on their heels. This is said to have been the origin of the nickname of "Tar Heels" now so solidly attached to North Carolinians.

CAMPUS

The college campus consists of 200 pleasantly landscaped acres, more than 75 of which are wooded. Shade and beauty are afforded by numerous pine, oak, elm, and dogwood trees. Extensive additional landscaping (designed by Robert G. Campbell, A.S.L.A.) is being carried out. A cut flower garden, a project of the Rocky Mount Garden Club, has added beauty to the lawn behind Nash Hall. A floral garden has been planned among the young pines north of the baseball field. These pines will provide a natural and protective setting for hundreds of camellias that are to be transplanted along paths already cut in formal patterns.

The physical facilities of the campus are rapidly growing. Each new building will conform to the chosen architectural style, "Eastern Carolina Colonial." Most everyone agrees buildings which are beautiful as well as serviceable enhance a good educational program.

The following buildings are completed, or will be completed, for use during the 1964-65 year:

Serpentine Wall and Main Entrance: A serpentine wall wends its way for almost a mile along U. S. 301, the eastern border of the campus. The main entrance, about midway this low wall, is marked by taller walls that curve gracefully inward to imposing gatehouses, one on each side of the dual-lane drive into the campus. Attached to these fifty-foot walls are large white metal letters spelling out the name of the college. Both the walls and gateway are gifts of Mr. Frank E. Brown of Richmond, an Edgecombe County native.

On the wall behind the arched doorways of each gatehouse is a marble plaque on which is inscribed:

"Dedicated to the Ministers of the North Carolina Conference, Se.J., of The Methodist Church. 1962. Donated by Frank E. Brown."

The bricks used in the construction of the walls — along with all campus buildings — were manufactured especially for Wesleyan to simulate hand-made bricks of the Colonial period. The overall effect is one of mellowed charm which is generally very appealing.

The Braswell Administration Building: On the ground floor of this building are located all the administrative offices, those of the president, dean, comptroller, director of admissions, recorder, and the dean of students. In the adjoining south wing are several of the faculty offices. The north wing houses more faculty offices and the music practice rooms. The second floor temporarily houses the library of the college and classrooms.

The Gravely Science Building: This is the southern building of the central triumvirate. It has two floors of modernly equipped laboratories for physics, biology, chemistry, and general sciences. It also provides three large science lecture halls, three small laboratories for advanced individual faculty research projects, faculty offices, and preparation rooms.

The Pearsall Classroom Building: This north building has nine major classrooms and lecture halls. It also contains music department studios, practice rooms, faculty offices, and one large room set aside as a special exhibits gallery. Garber Chapel is temporarily located in this building.

Nash Hall: This was the first women's residence hall to be opened. It is a three-story, fireproof building. Each room accommodates two students with a total capacity of 126 young ladies. Each room is furnished with desks, wardrobes, and a lavatory-dressing table. On the ground floor are small parlors, a large parlor, and the resident counselor's apartment. Self-service laundry facilities, hair dryer, and kitchenettes are available to all students. Study rooms are provided on each floor.

Edgecombe Hall: The men's residence hall is similar in basic construction to the women's. Each room houses two men with a total capacity of 136 freshmen, who are assigned to this one hall.

South Hall: The second men's residence hall was open to receive returning upperclass men in the fall of 1963. It is across South Tyler Drive from Edgecombe, its counterpart.

North Hall: Between the President's Home and Nash Hall, facing North Tyler Drive, is the second women's residence hall, which was opened to upperclass women in the fall of 1963. Wesleyan now has four halls, all similar in design and size, with uncrowded dormitory space for more than 500 students.

Cafeteria and Student Union: The cafeteria is equipped to serve 800 students quickly and in pleasant surroundings. Private dining rooms are available for faculty or student meetings.

The Student Union has a coffee lounge and snack counter, post office, bookstore, student lounges, faculty lounge, and student government and publications offices.

The President's Home: This lovely home was designed to conform with other college buildings in the style of modified Colonial homes. It is located just north of the women's dormitories.

Spruill Infirmary: Construction of this 18-bed infirmary was completed during the summer of 1963. It is conveniently located between the Student Union and Edgecombe Hall. Provision has been made for a ward of six beds, a semi-private room and an isolation ward on each end of the building, one end for men, the other for women. The infirmary will be staffed, with quarters provided for a resident nurse.

An attractive lobby for visitors, an office, examination room, pantry, and utility room make the unit complete, comfortable, and serviceable in every way. This building, as well as all others on the campus, has a ramp for wheel chairs or easy ascent to the ground floor.

The Gymnasium: Construction on the gymnasium, begun in the fall of 1963, will be completed next fall. It will seat approximately 1,500 spectators. Basketball courts and other sports areas will be provided along with offices for the physical education staff.

Athletic Facilities: Paved tennis courts, outdoor basketball areas and playing fields are in constant use. A baseball diamond for intercollegiate games is conveniently located near the gymnasium site.

Other athletic areas are being developed rapidly. Nearby golf facilities are used by the college as classes finish their basic training in this sport.

The Heating Plant-Maintenance Building: The heating plant was the first building completed on the new campus. It houses two large boilers, maintenance and storage facilities, and a modern paint shop. In the adjoining walled-off yard transformers pick up incoming power. All these facilities are adequate to care for the needs of as many as 1,200 students.

All utilities (heat, water, sewage, electricity, and telephone) are distributed from this main plant to the rest of the campus by underground channels. No unsightly lines and poles mar the appearance of the campus.

Parking Facilities: Ample parking areas, providing one space for every two students, are conveniently located near each building. Cars regularly parked on campus are required to bear a registration sticker.

THE LIBRARY

A center of Wesleyan's academic life is its library. The collection consists of more than 20,000 cataloged volumes and is growing at the rate of over 3,000 each year.

The library subscribes to 170 periodical titles and is rapidly filling back-runs of important journals. An inter-library borrowing service operates under the American Library Association code. Materials are borrowed through this service for advanced student work and for faculty research. A microfilm reader is available. The library provides room for study and research. All stacks are open for student borrowers.

A science reference library is located in the Gravely Science Building and consists of important reference works, science abstracts, and major periodical titles.

22 The College

The main library is temporarily housed on the second floor of the Braswell Administration Building. Plans are now being drawn for a new library building which is scheduled for construction in 1965-66.

The Music Library: The Department of Music maintains an outstanding library for the use of students and faculty. Located in the Pearsall Classroom Building, the library contains more than 2,000 music scores, consisting of operas, orchestral scores, chamber music, vocal and choral music, and solo music for winds, strings, piano, and organ.

The department's library of recordings contains over 1,600 long-playing records and several hundred valuable sets of 78 RPM recordings. The recordings library is cross-indexed with the library of music scores so that students may easily find scores for use in listening to recordings.

The library contains ample listening facilities, including three turntables equipped with headphones. Additional record players are available for classroom use.

The facilities of the music library are in constant use in departmental courses and also furnish a basic reference library for departmental majors. They are, of course, designed to be of the broadest possible use to the college as a whole and are open to all students during library hours.

Self-Development Opportunities

Wesleyan life offers opportunities for the development and enrichment of each student. The wide variety of activities and campus organizations are planned to stimulate leadership, cooperative teamwork, and the exchange of ideas. The college plans that through student participation in such a program a wise, honest, and Christian citizenry will develop.

Wesleyan has as its goal the full social, cultural, physical, and spiritual development of its students. Basic organizations and activities for such fourfold development are already functioning, but further opportunities for creative ability and organizational work in the early life of the college offer all students an exciting challenge. College songs are yet to be written, teams and clubs to be organized, magazines to be edited, along with many other purposeful activities. Every student is encouraged to participate widely that he may expand his education — "learn for living."

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Student government is a cooperative law-making and law-enforcing body, based on the mutual confidence of students, faculty, and administration. As these three groups work together, the Student Government Association unifies the student body, and, subject to the general rules of the college, controls matters of student concern.

The Student Government Association is composed of all students registered at North Carolina Wesleyan College. Officers of the association, policies, and programs are decided by elections. Only those students carrying twelve or more semester hours and maintaining an academic average of C (2.0) or higher are eligible to hold such elective office.

In addition to the Student Government Association, each class elects its own officers and plans activities specifically related to the interest of the class.

A Women's Residence Hall Council and similar Men's Residence Hall Council represent all residents living in their respective halls on campus. Councils and officers are chosen by hall elections. The council assists in making and enforcing residence hall regulations.

A Day Student Council represents all students not residing in residence halls on campus. Council and officers are chosen by day student elections.

CONDUCT AND REGULATIONS

Although specific rules and regulations are given in detail in the Bishops' L.A.W., the student handbook, a few general rules are emphasized here.

Wesleyan students are expected to be ladies and gentlemen. Their loyal and genuine cooperation in maintaining a high standard of conduct is counted upon. By matriculating, the student concedes the right of the college to require his withdrawal should his behavior be judged unsatisfactory.

Gambling and drinking are grounds for dismissal. Any student using intoxicating beverages or possessing intoxicants while on campus is subject to dismissal.

Students must have permission to keep a car on campus. Automobiles belonging to students must be properly registered with the business office. The fee for registration is $1, and it must be renewed each year. An official permit must be displayed on the lower right hand corner of the windshield and the car parked only in areas designated for student use. While there is ample parking space on the campus, all faculty, staff, and personnel employed by the college must secure permits and use specified parking plazas. Parking for visitors may be found behind the Braswell Administration Building.

Every Tuesday morning the college community gathers in an assembly at which attendance is required of all students. Business of the student government is conducted; faculty, administration, and general announcements are made; often special programs are presented. Just as chapel serves the religious life of the campus, assembly concerns itself with the business of campus life.

THE COMMUNITY COUNCIL

The Community Council is organized by joint action of the faculty, staff, and students. Four students, two faculty members, and one staff member comprise the council, which is sometimes called "the community conscience." The council is charged with all interests of the total Wesleyan community. It investigates matters referred by student, faculty, or staff groups; it serves as broad council for anyone in the community; and it makes recommendations to the faculty, the student government, and the administration.

The Community Council is not an honor court, but it is concerned with matters of honor and maturity. Established upon a Community Bill of Rights, the council stresses trust, expressed in the motto, "Efficiency through service, fidelity, and integrity." The Bill of Rights states:

"We, the people of the North Carolina Wesleyan College Community, do firmly intend:

- "1. That every student of the community shall receive equal and fair treatment in all academic matters.
- "2. That every member of the community shall maintain full rights

- to his property and shall respect the property rights of all others.
- "3. That every member of the community shall have his word taken without question and shall trust the word of all others."

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

Musical organizations include the Wesleyan Singers, the Chapel Choir, the Wesleyan Symphonic Wind Ensemble, the dance band, and several smaller musical ensembles. Membership in these groups is open to all students. The Wesleyan Singers present several concerts on campus during each year and often make off-campus trips. The Chapel Choir performs for weekly chapel services. The Wesleyan Symphonic Wind Ensemble affords the qualified instrumentalist the opportunity to perform significant works written or arranged for band. It also presents several concerts on campus, frequently in conjunction with the Wesleyan Singers.

The college sponsors a varied program of concerts on campus which brings in outstanding artists and recitalists. Recent performers have included Soulima Stravinsky, pianist; Bruce Foote, baritone; Robert Conant, harpsichordist; the Feldman String Quartet; the University of Georgia Piano Trio; and Raymond Dudley, pianist. In addition to the College Series, the Music Department presents frequent faculty and student recitals.

The Wesleyan Players: In the spring of 1964 Wesleyan Players was chartered as the official dramatics honorary group on the campus. Participation in Wesleyan College Theater leads to membership in Wesleyan Players. The WCT program is open to all students and being an educational activity does not require any previous experience. Each year two major productions and other shorter plays are presented. Among plays presented recently were Tartuffe by Molière, Hello Out There by William Soroyan, All My Sons by Arthur Miller and The Curious Savage by John Patrick.

Other Clubs and Organizations: A literary club, the Bruits, has been organized on the campus and meets frequently. The group plans to initiate the publication of a college literary magazine. Both the Young Democrats' Club and the Young Republican Club were formed during the winter of 1963. Phi Sigma, a local fraternity, has been formed. It plans to petition for membership into Alpha Phi Omega, a national service fraternity affiliated with the Boy Scouts of America. The Circle K Club was chartered in the spring of 1963. Among the other clubs recently organized are the Delta Science Club, the Women's Recreation Association, the Monogram Club, and the Psychology Club. Still others are in the formative stages.

Social Events: From the Freshman Orientation Party to the Spring Formal, where the Campus Queen is crowned, many social functions are enjoyed throughout the college year. Some of these are the Miss Mistletoe Ball, the Community Christmas Banquet, Valentine Dance, sock hops on high school weekends, style shows, receptions following concerts, and special events sponsored by groups visiting the campus. Hay rides, bonfires, and picnics afford fun out-of-doors.

ART, LECTURES, CULTURAL EVENTS

The college annually brings to the campus a series of outstanding lecturers. In cooperation with the Danforth Foundation and the Association of American Colleges, the college has recently sponsored appearances by such men as Victor Christ-Janer, distinguished American architect; George G. Stern, Head of the Psychological Research Center at Syracuse University; José Maria Chaves, eminent international lawyer and Colombian diplomat; George A. Buttrick, distinguished theologian; and Houston Smith, First Professor of Philosophy at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Wesleyan is a member of the Poetry Circuit in North Carolina with seven other colleges. Each year promising young poets are sent on the circuit of eight campuses. Each poet meets students and faculty in a day of informal sessions—then presents a formal public program at which he reads and discusses his poetry. Visiting poets have included Robert Watson, Donald Hall, Charles Edward Eaton, and Jean Garrigue.

A Related Reading Forum brings the college community together three or four times annually in the study of selected classic, provocative books. The entire college is challenged to read the book, then in informal discussion, or forum, the group is led by faculty members, student panel members, or visiting speakers into extended study.

The exhibit gallery in Pearsall Building shows monthly exhibitions throughout the school year. Among recent exhibits have been collections of contemporary Japanese prints, "The Dutch Landscape of the 17th Century," prints by members of the Iowa Print Group, woodcuts by Irving Amen, and a collection of contemporary European and Oriental prints from the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts.

Recognizing the film as one of the major cultural forces of our time, the college offers a Fine Films Series, which is free to all students. American and foreign movies of outstanding historical, cultural, and entertainment values are shown on Friday evenings throughout the year.

The city of Rocky Mount offers a number of cultural opportunities which are available to students at Wesleyan. These include annual appearances by the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra, the annual Spring Arts Festival sponsored by the Rocky Mount Arts Center, and various civic enterprises in the field of drama and related arts.

STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

The student newspaper, The Wesleyan Decree, is published twice monthly by students of the college. Work on the staff is open to all interested students.

The college yearbook, The Dissenter, is published annually. The name symbolizes John Wesley, the founder of The Methodist Church, who refused to accept the doctrinal and ritualistic limitations of the established Church of England.

A student committee edits and publishes annually the student hand-book, Bishops' L.A.W. (Life At Wesleyan) which contains college regulations, residence hall rules, and general information about student life.

Aspects, a journal of discussion, creative writing, and research in the arts and sciences, published its first number in the spring of 1964. Students are encouraged to submit articles and poems. Contributions from the faculty and even an occasional article from someone outside the Wesleyan community are solicited.

SPORTS AND RECREATION

Physical education is an integral part of the general education of all students. The program is projected in three phases: required physical education, intramural sports, and intercollegiate athletics.

In required physical education, freshmen and sophomores develop a competence in individual and team sports. In addition, intramural sports enable each student to participate voluntarily in sports of his own choosing. Facilities are available for tennis, volleyball, baseball, and related field sports. The college gymnasium, now under construction, will be available in the fall of 1964 to broaden the scope of athletic activities.

Wesleyan is a member of the newly-formed Dixie Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. Three other members are from North Carolina: Methodist College of Fayetteville, St. Andrews Presbyterian College of Laurinburg, and Charlotte College of Charlotte. The College of Charleston (S. C.) and Lynchburg College (Va.) complete the six member conference. The constitution of the conference prohibits granting of athletic scholarships or any financial aid to students to encourage their participation in intercollegiate athletics.

Basketball, baseball, tennis, golf, soccer, track, and cross country will be the first sports governed by the conference. If any four of the conference members field teams in one sport, this sport will be classified as a conference sport.

RELIGIOUS LIFE AND ACTIVITIES

From the day of its establishment, Wesleyan has regarded Christian faith as the central reality of its corporate life. Every effort is made to complement academic achievement by moral integrity and spiritual awareness. Wesleyan strives to create an atmosphere in which students may mature in their religious beliefs and find intellectual support for their faith.

Each Thursday morning Wesleyan has a required chapel service. This is the hour when the college community unites in worship. Ministers and religious leaders of various denominations are frequent speakers, as are members of the college staff and faculty.

On special occasions convocations and religious emphasis periods are designated. Voluntary vesper services are regularly scheduled.

A student Christian movement is active on the Wesleyan campus under the direction and auspices of an Interfaith Commission. The commission is composed of a chairman elected by the student body, a representative elected from each residence hall, one elected from the day students, and one or more from each denominational group. A faculty adviser and a student chaplain are also members. The commission is charged with planning and coordinating all student religious life of the college.

It promotes a Christian atmosphere on campus and fosters worthy projects that help unite students in Christian fellowship. The commission encourages each denomination with six or more student members to form its own group. Several denominations have already actively organized into clubs and similar groups.

The churches of the Rocky Mount community are actively interested in Wesleyan. They welcome all students, many of whom have found places of service in the youth groups, the church choirs, and the group activities of the churches. The YMCA and YWCA have demonstrated a similar interest from the beginning and promise continued interest.

GUIDANCE PROGRAM

The college has initiated an expanding, well-rounded guidance program to help each student examine, evaluate, and choose realistic personal goals. Every effort is made to adjust the college and the student to one another with ease and to prepare the student for his later life.

The Guidance Program includes the following services:

Orientation: All new students participate in various classes and activities designed to acquaint them with their new environment. This enables them to make a smooth transition from high school to college.

Testing Service: A battery of aptitude and achievement tests is administered to all new students to place them properly in classes and to identify those in need of remedial studies. Additional tests of interest, attitudes, personality, and intelligence are available for administration upon request from the student or members of the faculty.

Counseling Service: In addition to the faculty advisers, trained counselors are available to help students with their educational, vocational, and personal problems.

Vocational, Occupational, and Educational Information Service: A library of occupational, vocational, and educational information is being accumulated. Current information is available for study by the students to aid them in making informed vocational choices.

Placement Service: The college makes a sincere effort to place its graduates by providing information regarding employment opportunities, arranging interviews with prospective employers, and by furnishing the necessary records and recommendations required.

HEALTH SERVICES

All students may avail themselves of the usual services of the college physician, nurse, and infirmary without charge. Medical expenses are the responsibility of the student or his parents, but the college—solely as a service to those students who take six or more semester hours—offers limited sickness and accident group insurance coverage. This insurance offers blanket accident benefits up to $1,000, hospitalization for sickness up to 35 days at $10 a day for room and board, necessary hospital extras up to $100, and surgical fees up to $200. Premiums are paid by the college from comprehensive fees. The policy is a binding contract between the company and the student to whom it is issued directly without further involvement or obligation of the college. The policy stipulates the customary exact provisions, coverages, and conditions.

North Carolina Wesleyan is a liberal arts college. It seeks to give all students a critical understanding of the major fields of human knowledge and of their relationships. It seeks to develop the intellectual powers of each student and to provide him with an opportunity to concentrate in an area of his choice.

North Carolina Wesleyan College will confer the baccalaureate degree upon students who satisfy the requirements of the college. The Bachelor of Arts degree is available in all areas which offer a major program. The Bachelor of Science degree is available in the areas of biology, chemistry, and physics.

ACCREDITATION

North Carolina Wesleyan College is a member of the National Association of Schools and Colleges of The Methodist Church.

North Carolina Wesleyan is a member of the North Carolina College Conference and operated in 1963-64 under standards required for accreditation as a senior college.

Wesleyan was honored on December 4, 1963 when it became the first North Carolina college ever granted early academic recognition by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Upon the recommendation of an examining committee, Wesleyan was granted provisional recognition as a Candidate for Membership. Wesleyan expects to maintain its high standards that it may become a full-fledged accredited member in 1966.

In granting Federal Housing Loans for dormitories and making available National Defense Loan Funds for the use of the college, the Federal Government required the college to meet qualifications similar to those required for accreditation. The college gave proof that its students were eligible for transfer by at least three fully accredited institutions. Furthermore, credits from Wesleyan have been accepted by several accredited colleges outside the state as well as within North Carolina. Qualified students from Wesleyan have proved themselves acceptable to all colleges to which they have applied.

Admission Requirements and Procedures

The Committee on Admissions selects those applicants with satisfactory academic and personal qualifications. The application must contain a complete record of all work in secondary schools or colleges. For admission to North Carolina Wesleyan College one must meet the following requirements:

a. The applicant should be a graduate, or expect to be a graduate, of a high school of recognized standing.

b. The applicant must present 16 units or more of credit. At least 4 units must be in English; 9 must be chosen from language, social sciences, mathematics, and natural sciences. If a foreign language is included, at least 2 units of one language must be presented.

Applicants are advised to exceed the minimum requirements prescribed above when possible. It is recommended that applicants seek to present at least 4 units in English, 2 or more in foreign language (ancient or modern), 2 in history, 2 or more in mathematics, and 2 in science. Ideally, the remainder of 16 units should consist of additional credits in these preferred subjects.

c. All applicants should submit scores of the Scholastic Aptitude Test given by the College Entrance Examination Board. In the case of emergency, the college will administer its own admission tests.

The applicant should write as soon as possible to the College Entrance Examination Board, Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey, and request a Bulletin of Information. The Bulletin, obtainable without charge, gives detailed information about fees, the cities where the examination centers are located, dates when applications are to be returned for each examination listed, and a brief description of the tests. Each student considering North Carolina Wesleyan College should indicate on the aptitude test application blank that the report of scores be sent to North Carolina Wesleyan College, Rocky Mount, North Carolina. The college's Code Number is 5501.

Scores achieved on this entrance examination, for which there is no passing or failing grade, are considered by North Carolina Wesleyan College as only one of several factors that determine a student's qualifications. The applicant's total high school record, rank in graduating class, recommendations, personality adjustment, activities, leadership, and, whenever possible, a personal interview are other important considerations.

- d. The applicant should furnish the names of at least three satisfactory references who will be asked by the college for letters of recommendation.
- e. The applicant should present a physical fitness statement with his application. Following tentative acceptance, and within 60 days of final admission, a detailed medical examination by a recognized physician must be submitted on forms provided by the college.

In case of unusual merit, applicants over the age of 21 who are not graduates may qualify by presenting a high school equivalency certificate on the basis of the General Education Development Test (GED), provided they pass an entrance examination and meet other requirements the college may specify.

Candidates submitting evidence of studies successfully pursued at another institution of higher learning may be granted admission to Wesleyan provided they are eligible for readmission to the institution last attended and meet regulations governing readmission of students to North Carolina Wesleyan College. If ineligible to return to the college last attended, at least one regular term (semester or quarter) must elapse before matriculating at Wesleyan. Applicants who have attended other colleges must submit complete records of all college work. Failure to submit complete records may constitute cause for dismissal from the college.

Wesleyan students who are out of school one or more semesters must apply in writing to the director of admissions, prior to registration day, for readmission to the college.

For further information write the Director of Admissions, North Carolina Wesleyan College, Rocky Mount, North Carolina.

Before consideration, all application forms must be completed and submitted with a $10 application fee. This is a service fee and is not refundable.

EARLY ACCEPTANCE

Early acceptance is granted applicants who are certain they want to attend Wesleyan, who rank high in their grades and test scores, and who furnish good recommendations and records of extracurricular activities. To receive an early decision (between September 1 and January 1 of his senior year), the applicant must have taken the SAT in his junior year and had the scores sent to Wesleyan.

ACADEMIC LOAD—QUALITY POINTS—GRADES

An academic load includes all semester hours except activity and skill courses such as choir, band, and required physical education. To have regular standing a student must carry at least 12 semester hours. The normal course load is 15-17 semester hours. Special permission must be secured from the dean to register for a larger load. A charge of $16.00 will be made for each credit hour above 17.

An average quality grade of 2.0 (C) is required for graduation. Numerical quality point values assigned to grades earned for each semester hour of academic credit are:

A = 4 quality points = Excellent

B+=3.5 quality points

B = 3 quality points = Good

C+=2.5 quality points

C = 2 quality points = Satisfactory

D+=1.5 quality points

D = 1 quality point = Passing F = 0 quality points = Failing

Other grades, without quality point evaluation, are:

Inc. Incomplete

WP. Withdrawn Passing

WF. Withdrawn Failing

W......Involuntary Withdrawal

Incompletes (Inc.) should be removed within eight weeks following the beginning of the next regular semester in which the student is enrolled or the grade of F will be given for the semester's work.

STUDENT CLASSIFICATION

All students are classified as regular or special students.

Regular students are those who register for 12 or more semester hours; their status does not change during a semester since they may not reduce their load below 12 semester hours. All regular students are expected to reside in residence halls unless they are married or live in the community with their immediate family or other close relatives. Those residing on campus are further known as resident students; those living off campus are known as day students.

Special students are those who register for less than 12 semester hours. Special students are not permitted to live on campus nor are they entitled to all services and privileges available to regular students.

DROPPING OR CHANGING COURSES

A student may drop courses within the first two weeks of classes without penalty or notation on his record. After this period and before the end of the fifth week, he will be given the grade WP if passing or WF if failing. After this date, the grade will be F.

The last day to add a course is the seventh day following registration. Students will be charged a fee of $3 for all changes of schedule or withdrawals after the fourteenth day following registration, unless the change is initiated by the dean or a faculty member.

WITHDRAWAL

Before a student may officially withdraw from Wesleyan, he must complete appropriate forms in the dean of students' office and have them cleared by the registrar and the business office.

CLASS ATTENDANCE

North Carolina Wesleyan College expects all students to attend punctually every class and laboratory session. Students may be absent only for unavoidable reasons or if excused. Those who are doing satisfactory work may be excused to represent the college in athletics, band, chorus, dramatics, field trips, religious conferences, and other college activities approved by the dean.

CLASS STANDING

To advance from freshman to sophomore standing, a student must have to his credit a minimum of 24 semester hours; to qualify as a junior, 56 semester hours; to qualify as a senior, 90 semester hours.

College-Student Responsibilities

Most of Wesleyan's students are under-age legally; yet the college believes it is significant to their education and development to be regarded as adults. Because of this policy, all reports of grades are mailed to the student at his home address. It is expected that the student will keep his parents advised of his progress, but parents may check directly with the college at any time.

FACULTY ADVISERS

The college maintains an active counseling relationship with its students. Each student is assigned to a faculty adviser who remains his adviser until the student selects his major subject. He is expected to make this decision before he registers for his junior year. At that time he may change his adviser to one in his major field. If a change is desired for any other reason, the request should be made to the dean's office.

The student may consult his adviser on all matters of concern to him. He must consult with his adviser before registering to secure approval of all courses to be taken. In addition, the guidance program of the college offers some aptitude testing, vocational guidance, and personal counseling.

PROBATION — QUALITY POINT COMPUTATION

To remain at Wesleyan all students, including transfers, must meet certain minimum quality point requirements as follows:

- 1. At completion of second semester, 1.3 quality point average.
- 2. At completion of fourth semester, 1.6 quality point average.
- 3. At completion of sixth semester, 2.0 quality point average.

Students falling below these minimums will be dropped from the college unless an appeal for probationary standing is granted. A student who has been dropped and readmitted on probation must attend all classes, cannot maintain a vehicle on campus, and must complete 12 s.h. of academic work in the probationary semester.

A freshman with a quality point average of less than 1.3 at the end of his first semester is on probation and must attend all classes, must complete at least 12 s.h. of academic work, and must consult with his adviser on the fourth and twelfth weeks of his second semester.

Averages are figured by adding all quality points earned on courses counted in the period, and dividing this total by the number of semester hours represented by these courses, including all courses failed. If "failed" courses are successfully repeated, only quality points and semester hours "passed" will apply. Courses transferred from other institutions are not included in Wesleyan's quality point computation.

ACADEMIC HONORS AND AWARDS

At the end of each semester a Dean's List of students who have attained high scholastic standing is published. Such students must have earned a 3.2 quality point average based upon a load of not less than 12 academic hours.

The degree, Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science, cum laude is conferred upon a student who has been in residence at least two years and has earned a minimum of 60 hours credit with an average of at least 3.4 quality points. If 3.6 quality points, he qualifies for the degree magna cum laude; 3.8 for the degree summa cum laude.

For the purpose of computing the standing of a student, only those academic semester hours taken for degree credit at North Carolina Wesleyan College will be counted.

Departmental honors are awarded graduates who earn a minimum quality point average of 3.4 in their major and a minimum accumulative average of 2.5 quality points.

Among the honor awards made annually near the close of the school are:

John Paul Jones History Award for the best term paper in history, sponsored by the Nash County Committee of Colonial Dames.

President's Citation for Freshman Composition for the best English composition.

Outstanding Academic Achievement for the student who makes the highest grades for the year, sponsored by the Rocky Mount Kiwanis Club.

Outstanding Athlete of the Year is designated by the Physical Education Department, sponsored by the Rocky Mount Civitan Club.

Leadership and Service Award for Men, sponsored by the North Carolina Wesleyan College Chaplain, and Leadership and Service Award for Women, sponsored by the Pilot Club of Rocky Mount, are both based upon vote of the student body and evaluation of the faculty.

Additional awards and honors will be conferred in keeping with Wesleyan's growth.

REQUIREMENTS FOR DEGREE

A candidate for graduation must complete 124 semester hours of work, including four semester hours in physical education. He must maintain an average of 2.0 quality points (C average) for all semester hours taken, with the exception of choir, band, or required physical education. He must complete at least two consecutive semesters as a regular student at North Carolina Wesleyan College. The student must be in good standing with regard to character and conduct, and must have satisfactorily discharged all financial obligations to the college.

All students must pass Sophomore Proficiency Examinations in English and spelling. The tests are given twice during the sophomore year. Students who fail the examinations will be given other opportunities to pass them and course work when necessary.

Each student must complete basic studies in liberal arts. English Composition (11-12) and Religion (1-2) are to be completed in the freshman year. He should fulfill language and physical education requirements before attaining senior standing.

To sample a wide variety of fields of knowledge, the student must take no less than 12 semester hours in each of the three major divisions into which the curriculum is organized. The 12 semester hours in each division must be distributed within at least two subject areas.

During his junior and senior years the student concentrates on his selected field of specialization. The candidate for graduation must present at least 40 hours of work in upper level courses. A choice of free electives gives depth in areas other than his major or allows further specialization.

Major Fields of Concentration

Before registration as a junior, each student must choose his major field. He will then be assigned to a faculty adviser chosen from the staff of that field. The major work consists of 24 to 42 semester hours.

The areas in which North Carolina Wesleyan offers majors are: English, Romance languages, religion, music, history, psychology, economics and business administration, biology, chemistry, physics, and mathematics. Major programs in sociology, political science, and other areas will be developed in the future.

VOCATIONAL OR PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMS

Students may choose courses of study leading to careers in business, Christian education, Christian ministry or mission service, drama, engineering, law, medicine, music, social work, teaching, and others.

Students planning careers which recommend or require graduate or professional schools should plan their undergraduate programs to comply with entrance requirements of those schools. Applicants for admission to graduate or professional schools are expected to have done undergraduate work of high quality.

The following programs are suggested for specified careers:

Religious Work: The student should take varied liberal arts courses. Recommended majors are religion, English, history, philosophy, or the social sciences. His program should include: English, 12-18 s. h.; a foreign language, 6-18 s. h.; history, 6-18 s. h.; philosophy, 6-12 s. h.; psychology, 6-12 s. h.; religion, 12-18 s. h.; social sciences (other than history), 6-12 s.h. These suggestions are in accordance with the recommendations of the American Association of Theological Schools for undergraduate study.

Social Work: A student preparing to work in public welfare, probation service, neighborhood or community service should major in sociology or psychology. Electives should be chosen from history, economics, political science, education, philosophy, and religion.

Medical Fields: Pre-medical, pre-dental, pre-pharmaceutical, or pre-nursing candidates should plan their programs of study to include those courses required by the medical school of their choice. The usual requirements include Biology 1-2, Chemistry 1-2 and 21-22, Physics 21-22, English 11-12, a foreign language, and history.

Business: For students planning to enter business upon graduation, a major in economics is advised. Since the college is interested in training business leaders with a broad liberal arts education, the student is advised to elect courses broadly outside his major field. For those planning to take graduate work in business administration, courses recommended by the graduate school of his choice should be pursued.

Teaching, College: A student desiring to teach in college should plan for considerable graduate work in his field of interest. Excellence of work in general and concentrated emphasis on subject matter in the major are essential.

Teaching, Secondary School: A student preparing to teach in the secondary schools of North Carolina must be qualified to meet the new teacher education program as set forth in Publication No. 357, Teaching In North Carolina. The effective date for this program is September 1, 1966. Such a student, as well as one contemplating teaching in another state, is strongly advised to consult with the director of education so that he will meet all of the requirements for certification.

North Carolina Wesleyan College has established a curriculum designed in accordance with the new state program:

The program of general education should comprise approximately 40 percent of the undergraduate program and is achieved through the basic requirements of the college (see page 39). Methods and Materials in Secondary Education
Directed Teaching

*Teaching, Primary and Grammar Grades: A student planning to teach in the grammar grades will find that academic requirements for a Class A Teacher's Primary or Grammar Grade Certificate vary with the level of instruction and the state in which certification is granted. At the present time North Carolina Wesleyan College offers a general education course required of all teachers and professional courses in education which will partially meet the requirements for a North Carolina certificate. Students preparing to teach in elementary schools are urged to consult certification requirements for the state in which they intend to teach.

Legal Work: Students who plan to enter law school may select their major work in any field. Emphasis on English, history, economics, philosophy, political science, and sociology is recommended for breadth of preparation.

*Engineering: Students may consult with advisers for an explanation of the "3-2" program. This is planned to cooperate with Duke University or North Carolina State College. It offers an opportunity for five years of study leading to a B.S. degree from North Carolina Wesleyan College and a B.S. degree from Duke or State. The student who elects to follow this program must do better than average work. While at Wesleyan, the student must meet the basic requirements for graduation and concentrate in mathematics and physics.

The faculty and administrative officers will counsel the student in these areas. In the early years of the college, courses necessary for successful achievement (or certification) in these fields may not be offered; in such cases students will be advised to transfer in their junior year to a school where such achievement may be assured.

Course Numbering System

The courses are numbered in accordance with the following scheme. Courses numbered from 1 through 19 are open to all students. Courses numbered from 20 through 49 are open to sophomores, juniors and seniors. Courses numbered from 50 upward are primarily for juniors and seniors.

Normally courses with odd numbers will be offered in the fall semester, those with even numbers in the spring semester. When a course has two numbers connected by a hyphen, it is a year course (both semesters must be taken to earn credit). When a course is followed by two or more numbers separated by a comma, the first semester may be taken without the second, though the semesters are normally taken in number sequence and formulate a unit of the curriculum.

SCHEDULE OF COURSE OFFERINGS

Introductory courses are offered annually; most upper-level courses are offered in alternate years. A complete listing of courses and schedule of classes for each semester will be furnished before each registration period.

Prerequisites

In addition to specified courses, other prerequisites may be specified. Equivalent proficiency may be proven by satisfactory scores on the College Board Achievement Tests, by placement, or other proficiency tests administered by Wesleyan. Permission of the professor is sometimes required.

MUSIC

Departmental Major

Requirements for the B.A. degree:

A minimum of 44 hours in music courses including 11-12, 21-22, 51-52, 53-54, 62, 63, and 64.

A student who intends to major in music must declare a primary instrument upon entrance as a freshman. He must earn eight hours credit in either piano (A), organ (B), voice (C), string instrument (D), woodwind instrument (E), or brass instrument (F): 11, 12, 21, 22, 51, 52, 61, 62. However, in the case of a music major who intends to become an instrumental director of public school music, the requirements will be as follows: four hours credit in his primary instrument plus 11M, 12M, 11N, and 12N (Secondary Woodwinds and Brasses).

If his primary medium is not piano, the music major must meet the entrance requirements in piano before the beginning of his junior year. To receive full credit for applied music study a music major is expected to practice two hours daily on his primary instrument and is required to present a senior recital during his senior year. The recital requirement is waived in the case of students working towards a public school teacher's certificate in the instrumental field.

The music major shall attend all public recitals sponsored by the college and is expected to attend student recitals and other musical events recommended by the instructor involved.

All music majors must complete eight hours credit in either the Wesleyan Singers (X), Band (Y), and/or Instrumental Ensemble (Z): 11-12, 21-22, 51-52, 61, 62.

3 Music Appreciation.

3 s.h.

An introduction to musical understanding, designed for students who have had little contact with the art. The elements of music, its styles and forms as seen through a chronological study of the major monuments of music literature. Not open to music majors.

4 Survey of Music Literature.

3 s.h.

An intensive study of selected musical works representative of the principal currents found in the history of western music from the Baroque period through the present. The course is designed for the general college student. Not open to music majors.

11-12 Theory of Music.

3-3 s.h.

A concentrated study of the elements of musical composition including melody, harmony, rhythm, and tempo. Emphasis on the musical materials of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries.

21-22 Advanced Theory of Music.

3-3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Music 11-12.

Continuation of Music 11-12; also includes a survey of pre-eighteenth century techniques and twentieth century compositional practice.

51-52 History of Music.

3-3 s.h.

A survey of the history and development of music from its origin to the present.

53-54 Form and Analysis.

2-2 s.h.

The study of structural forms and their functions as illustrated in representative works from the history of western music, with emphasis on the classic, romantic, and modern eras.

61 Modal Counterpoint.

2 s.h.

The study and analysis of the principles of contrapuntal technique in the sixteenth century.

62 Orchestration.

2 s.h.

The study of instrumental resources and techniques. Scoring and arranging for orchestra, band, and chamber ensembles.

63 Tonal Counterpoint.

2 s.h.

The study and analysis of the principles of countrapuntal technique in the eighteenth century.

64 Conducting.

2 s.h.

Techniques of conducting; score reading; rehearsal procedures; practical applications of choral and orchestral interpretation.

65 Piano Literature.

3 s.h.

A survey of the major works of piano literature, their style, form, and technical resources.

66 Special Studies in the History of Music.

3 s.h.

The content of the course will change from year to year. The course will represent an intensified investigation of a particular aspect or phase of music history such as opera, the music of Bach, chamber music, etc.

Applied Music

Private instruction in applied music is available to any student in the college. For fees, see page 75. Lessons missed without prior notification and excuse cannot be made up.

Applied music study at pre-collegiate level is considered preparatory and conveys no credit. At collegiate level a maximum of eight semester hours may count as free electives in the liberal arts curriculum of the non-music major. However, no credits in applied music may help fulfill the 40-hour requirement of upper-level courses. One semester hour of credit is earned for one hour of weekly instruction. One-half semester hour is earned if the instruction period is one-half hour weekly. A minimum of one hour's daily practice is required of all students receiving credit. Loss of practice time or irresponsible absence from lessons may curtail credit awarded. Grades for applied music are determined by jury examination at the end of each semester.

Students may not use the name of the college in connection with musical performances in public without the consent of the chairman of the Music Department.

Piano

In order to receive credit for applied music study in piano, a student should have a technical ability sufficient to play such works as the Bach Two-Part Inventions and the easier sonatas of Mozart and Beethoven. A music major with piano as his primary instrument should have this minimum ability upon admission as a freshman.

Preparatory Piano.

No credit.

Lessons for the beginning student.

11A, 12A Piano.

1 or ½ s.h., 1 or ½ s.h.

All major and minor scales and arpeggios; technical studies; Bach Two-Part Inventions; sonatas of Mozart, Haydn, Beethoven (Op. 49; Op. 79; Op. 14, No. 1); shorter pieces of representative romantic and modern composers.

21A, 22A Piano.

1 or ½ s.h., 1 or ½ s.h.

All major and minor scales in contrary motion; technical studies; Bach French Suites and Three-Part Inventions; Beethoven sonatas (Op. 2, No. 1; Op. 14, No. 2; Op. 10, Nos. 1, 2, 3); Chopin preludes, waltzes; also pieces such as the Schumann Arabesque and the easier Debussy Preludes.

51A, 52A Piano.

1 or ½ s.h., 1 or ½ s.h.

All major and minor scales in thirds, sixths, and tenths, and in double thirds; preludes and fugues from Bach's Well-Tempered Clavier; Beethoven sonatas (Op. 27; Op. 31, No. 2); Chopin etudes; works of Brahms, Liszt, Schumann, Bartok, Hindemith, etc. Some work in accompanying.

61A, 62A Piano.

1 or ½ s.h., 1 or ½ s.h.

Advanced sonatas of Beethoven; Bach Partitas; compositions by Schubert, Schumann, Brahms, and other romantic and modern composers. Senior recital.

Note: All piano majors are required to meet for a one-hour weekly laboratory session in piano ensemble. Arrangements for these sessions are made at the beginning of each semester.

Organ

Entrance requirements are the same as those for piano.

Preparatory Organ.

No credit.

Lessons for the beginning student.

11B, 12B Organ.

1 or ½ s.h., 1 or ½ s.h.

Manual exercises, pedal studies. Easier chorale-preludes from Orgel-büchlein. Studies of literature in such collections as Biggs' Treasury of Early Organ Music. Hymn playing.

21B, 22B Organ.

1 or ½ s.h., 1 or ½ s.h.

Further manual and pedal studies. Representative works of the difficulty of Bach's Preludes and Fugues in E Minor (BWV 533) and G Minor (BWV 578) and Mendelssohn's Second Sonata.

51B, 52B Organ.

1 or ½ s.h., 1 or ½ s.h.

Bach chorale-preludes and Preludes and Fugues in F Minor (BWV 534) and A Major (BWV 536) and Franck's Prelude, Fugue and Variation. Accompaniments.

61B, 62B Organ.

1 or ½ s.h., 1 or ½ s.h.

Larger works of Bach, including trio sonatas, preludes, fantasies, toccatas, and fugues. Hindemith sonatas, works of Langlais, Messiaen, Alain, Sowerby, etc. Senior recital.

Voice

A music major with voice as his primary performing medium will, upon admission as a freshman, be given an audition to demonstrate his ability to sing on pitch, tonal memory, rhythmic and musical aptitudes. The student should also have or develop a practical knowledge of the piano. The voice major is required to memorize eight songs each semester.

Preparatory Voice.

No credit.

Fundamental vocal techniques.

11C, 12C Voice.

1 or ½ s.h., 1 or ½ s.h.

The fundamentals of vocal techniques, including posture, breathing, attack, agility, articulation, shading and control of amplitude. Vocal literature.

21C, 22C Voice.

1 or ½ s.h., 1 or ½ s.h.

By the end of the second year of study the student should have acquired a knowledge of breath control, voice production, and correct diction as applied to singing. The recitative and aria styles, as found in the works of the principal oratorio and operatic composers, are studied.

51C, 52C Voice.

1 or ½ s.h., 1 or ½ s.h.

Emphasis on repertoire study and development of interpretive skill. Performances in voice class recitals. Repertoire from the standard oratorio, operatic and art song categories.

61C, 62C Voice.

1 or ½ s.h., 1 or ½ s.h.

Enlargement of repertoire and further study of interpretation. Special emphasis placed on preparing the student for performance. Senior recital.

Ensembles

Credit for ensemble groups is given provided attendance to rehearsals and general progress is satisfactory. Letter grades of "P" (satisfactory work with credit) or "F" (unsatisfactory work with no credit) are given. No quality points are received and the hours earned in ensemble courses are not considered in determining the student's quality point average. Any student may earn eight hours credit in ensemble courses toward the 124 hours necessary for graduation. Non-music majors will receive elective credit hours. Ensemble credit does not apply toward the 40-hour requirement of upper-level course work.

The basic principles and assumptions of the Christian conception of the good life and applications to contemporary life.

72 Selected Problems in Christian Thought.

3 s.h.

An examination of contemporary Christian faith: selected problems in theology, the Biblical and modern-Christian concepts of man, the person and work of Jesus Christ, faith and reason, and the nature of the church.

83 The Philosophy of Religion.

3 s.h.

Identical with Philosophy 83. A philosophical study of the nature and meaning of religious phenomena with special attention to the thought and practice of Christianity.

84 Comparative Religion.

3 s.h.

The historical study of the major religions of the world with emphasis on the origin and development of religious belief from primitive times to the present day.

91 Directed Readings in Religion.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Senior status and instructor's permission.

The student will report on selected problems in religious thought during weekly conferences with the instructor.

Religious Education

Courses in Religious Education cannot be used to meet the 24-hour requirement for the major in Religion. They may be taken as electives.

53 Christian Education.

3 s.h.

The philosophy and basic principles of religious education. The development of the Christian education movement in the United States and its relevance to the modern church program.

54 The Christian Education of Youth.

3 s.h.

The organization and administration of youth work within the church. Analysis of youth's religious problems. Materials and methods. Two weekly class periods, one hour field work in one of the local churches.

74 Christian Worship Seminar.

3 s.h.

The theory and practice of corporate worship with attention to rites and formal aspects.

75 The Methodist Church Policy.

3 s.h.

The philosophy and structure of The Methodist Church, a study of the Discipline, the organizational genius, the basic principles of operation.

SPANISH

11-12 Elementary Spanish.

4-4 s.h.

Students who have had two years of Spanish in secondary school may not register for this course.

The basic grammatical structure of the language. Phonetics, intensive oral-aural drill.

21 R Remedial Spanish.

No credit

A non-credit two-hour course for those students who did not score sufficiently high on the College Board Achievement Test to warrant their placement in the 21-22 sequence. Students who pass this course may be placed in Spanish 22.

A thorough review of the grammatical structure of the language, intensive reading.

21-22 Intermediate Spanish.

3-3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Spanish 11-12 or equivalent proficiency. Grammar review, intensive reading and conversation.

51-52 Advanced Conversation and Composition.

3-3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Spanish 21-22 or the equivalent.

Advanced intensive oral-aural training and composition.

53-54 Survey of Spanish Literature.

3-3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Spanish 21-22 or the equivalent.

Representative movements, authors, and works from early times to the contemporary period.

THEATER AND SPEECH

Theater

1, 2, 3, 4 Theater Laboratory.

1, 1, 1, 1 s.h.

Practical experience in the theater's production program reinforced with readings and reports.

21 Elementary Acting Techniques.

3 s.h.

A development of imagination, concentration and movement through pantomime and improvisation. Techniques sharpened by performance in short scenes. Understanding of stage and acting terminology.

25 Orientation to the Theater.

3 s.h.

A survey of the artistic and technical functioning of theater, including playwriting, acting, directing, and design.

35 Introduction to Technical Theater.

3 s.h.

An examination of the basic techniques, theories and methods in stage design, lighting, makeup, and stage management.

Speech

11 Introductory Speech.

2 s.h

A study of American-English speech and speech activities with practice in voice and diction, and original speaking.

12 Interpretation.

3 s.h.

Practice in developing the ability to communicate effectively to others the content of works of literature in its intellectual, emotional, and aesthetic entirety.

13 Public Speaking.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Speech 11.

Study and practice of the various forms of original speaking with concentration on the art of persuasion.

ECONOMICS

Departmental Major

Requirements for the B.A. degree:

A minimum of 32 hours in economic courses 11, 12, 31, 51, 53, 54, 61, 62, 75, and 78. Recommended electives: at least 21 hours of upper-level courses from the Division of Social Science; also mathematics.

Minor in Business Administration:

Beginning with the 1965-66 academic year, several courses in business administration will be offered as part of the offerings in the field of economics. Sufficient number of such courses will be offered to constitute a minor within this field. Probable course offerings will include: accounting, principles of marketing, fundamentals of industrial management, principles of corporate finance and labor-management relations.

11, 12 Principles of Economics.

3, 3 s.h.

An introduction to principles of economics, including the theory of prices, the allocation of resources, the distribution of income, business and labor organizations, monetary and banking system, income determination, public finance, international trade, economic development and economic growth.

31 Introduction to Statistical Analysis.

4 s.h.

An introduction to statistical methods as applied to economic data, including sources of information, graphs, averages, measures of dispersion, sampling and statistical inference, time series, index numbers, and correlation.

51 Money and Banking.

4 s.h.

A survey of American monetary and banking system and international monetary arrangements. An introduction to monetary, fiscal and debt-management theory and consideration of major problems in these fields.

53 Economic Theory I.

3 s.h.

A detailed examination of the price system as an allocative mechanism. Study of price and production policies of individual firms under alternative market conditions and an analysis of the effect of these policies on resource allocation.

54 Economic Theory II.

3 s.h.

A study of factors determining the level of national income and economic activity. Also, study of the interrelationships among production, price levels, relative prices, employment, and capital formation.

56 Principles of Public Finance.

3 s.h.

The economic effects of taxation, government expenditure, transfer payments and government borrowing and lending upon the American economy. Also, uses of government's fiscal and monetary policies to promote the stability of income, employment, and prices.

60 Labor Economics.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: 6 hours in economics courses or instructor's permission. A study of labor management relations, development of unions, their structure, activities and goals, collective bargaining, wage theories and labor income, employment and unemployment.

61, 62 History of Economic Thought.

3, 3 s.h.

Evolutionary study of methods and concepts in economics from Biblical times to the present. An examination of the contributions of individual economists and major schools, including mercantilism, physiocracy, the classical school, historical school, Karl Marx and the socalist criticism, the Austrians, neo-classical reformation, American contributions, the Keynesian system and major contemporary contributions.

75 Seminar in Economic Theory.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Instructor's permission.

Examination of contemporary developments in economic theory of economists such as Marshall, Chamberlin, Robinson, Hicks, Keynes, Schumpter, Hansen, Galbraith and comparison between price theory and institutionalism.

78 Seminar in Problems of Political Economy.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Instructor's permission.

Application of economic policy to specific problems of current interest with proposals for their solution; problems that arise in fields such as taxation, labor relations, farm price supports, public debt, economic growth, depression and inflation.

HISTORY

Departmental Major

Requirements for the B.A. degree:

A minimum of 30 hours in history courses including 21, 22, 23, 41, 42, and 97. Recommended electives: courses in economics, political science, American literature, philosophy, art, or music.

21 Western Civilization.

3 s.h.

The development of western civilization in the Ancient World to the fall of Rome with emphasis upon the growth of political, economic, and social institutions.

22 Western Civilization.

3 s.h.

The course of western civilization from the fall of Rome through the Renaissance and Reformation.

23 Western Civilization.

3 s.h.

The course of western civilization from the late sixteenth century to the contemporary area.

41, 42 American Civilization.

3, 3 s.h.

The history of the United States from the discovery of America to the present, including intellectual, political, economic, religious and social development.

51 Colonial America.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: History 41.

A study of the establishment of the English colonies and the development of colonial society.

52 The Young Nation, 1776-1837.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: History 41.

A study of the young republic of the United States from the Revolution through the age of Jackson.

55 The Emergence of the New Nation, 1861-1896.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: History 41, 42.

A study of the Civil War and the social, political, and economic changes in the United States in the post-war era.

56 The United States in the Twentieth Century.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: History 42.

A study of the transformation wrought in American society since 1896, including a treatment of the impact of industrialism, America's rise to world power, social and intellectual movements as well as the political history of the era.

69 The Ancient World in Hellenic and Hellenistic Time. 3 s.h.

Prerequisite: History 21.

A study of the intellectual and institutional development of western man from the age of Homer through the era of Alexander the Great.

70 Rome. 3 s.h.

Prerequisite: History 21.

A study of the social and political developments of Rome from its emergence as a Mediterranean power to the age of Constantine.

71 The Middle Ages.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: History 22.

A study of the social, economic, and political aspects of European society from about 476 to 1300 with considerable emphasis on the role of feudalism and the church.

72 The Renaissance and Reformation.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: History 22.

A study of Europe between 1300 and 1648, with emphasis upon the economic changes, cultural development, and religious upheavals.

73 Nineteenth Century Europe.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: History 23.

A study of the intellectual, social, political and economic developments in Europe from the Congress of Vienna to the outbreak of World War I.

75 Europe Since 1914.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: History 23.

A study of changes in European society since the outbreak of World War I. Emphasis is placed upon the internal history of the Great Powers, the rise of totalitarianism, events leading to World War II, and the post-war settlement.

80, 81 The Non-Western World.

3, 3 s.h.

An historical survey of Africa and the Middle East from the rise of Islam to the Contemporary Era with emphasis upon the Muslim influence, European Colonialism, and emergence of new nations.

97 Senior Seminar.

3 s.h.

An introduction to historiography and the completion of a thesis project which is a requirement for all majors in history.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

All men students with an appropriate medical rating will take a general motor ability test at the beginning of the freshman year. The purpose of the test is to determine the ability of each student in fundamental motor skills. A student may be exempted from the sophomore physical education requirement by a high score on the motor test plus passing satisfactorily the proficiency tests in two team sports and two individual sports. These tests will be given before the end of Physical Education 2.

1, 3 Physical Education—Women.
Activities in team sports and tumbling.

1, 1 s.h.

2, 4 Physical Education—Women.

1, 1 s.h.

1, 2 Physical Education-Men.

Activities in individual sports.

1, 1 s.h.

Attention is given to activities: learning group games. Special emphasis will be devoted to the development of bodily control and some degree of proficiency in group outdoor seasonal sports.

3, 4 Physical Education—Men.

1, 1 s.h.

History, rules and theory of individual, dual, and team sports and recreational activities.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

25 Introduction to Political Science.

3 s.h.

A survey of the major areas of political science with particular emphasis on the areas of political theory and the "isms."

26 The American Political System.

3 s.h.

An introduction to the theory and practice of American government and politics.

PSYCHOLOGY

Departmental Major

Requirements for the B.A. degree:

A minimum of 27 hours in psychology courses including 21, 51, 52, 71, 78, and 80; and Biology 1-2. Recommended electives: Biology-genetics, sociology, economics, 20th century American and European history.

21 General Psychology.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite for all other courses in psychology.

Treats general principles of psychology, provides historical as well as theoretical background in contemporary psychology in fields of maturation and development, drives and motivation, feeling and emotion, mental health and psycho-therapy, principles of learning and forgetting, language and thinking, perception and attention, social influences on behavior, psychological measurement. Some experimentation is required and demonstrations will be made.

22 General Psychology (Advanced).

3 s.h.

Techniques of study as applied to psychology—attitudes and beliefs, intelligence and aptitudes and attitudes, beliefs and social prejudice, vision, hearing, lower senses, theories of personality, vocational adjustment, the nervous system and internal environment, physiological basis of behavior. The use of the case study approach in psychology. Considerable attention paid to methodology used in psychology.

51 Introduction to Statistical Analysis.

3 s.h.

An introduction to the statistical methods and procedures used in psychology. Statistical inference and interpretation.

52 Experimental Psychology.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Psychology 22, 51.

The consideration of experimental techniques as applied to problems in psychology. Methods of presenting findings in experimental data. Students required to conduct experiments, analyze data on experiments assigned. Original experiments are required.

53 Adolescent Psychology.

3 s.h.

Identical with Education 53. A survey of behavior and development of the child from adolescence to maturity. Some participation in empirical work required.

54 Child Psychology.

3 s.h.

Survey of development of behavior of the child from infancy to adolescence. Some participation in empirical studies required in field work.

55 Developmental Psychology.

3 s.h.

A survey of the development and behavioral processes of human beings. Some empirical work will be conducted.

56 Psychological Tests.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Psychology 51.

A study of the theory and practice of psychological group testing. Experience in administration and scoring of group tests. Demonstration of some individual and projective tests.

57, 58 Experimental Psychology.

3, 3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Psychology 22, 51.

The consideration of experimental techniques as applied to problems in psychology. Methods of presenting findings in experimental data. Students required to conduct experiments, analyze data on experiments assigned. Original experiments are required.

60 Human Retention and Learning.

3 s.h.

An experiment-oriented study of human learning, transfer, and retention, with emphasis on the complex behavioral processes.

64 Industrial Psychology.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Psychology 22.

A survey of contributions of the psychologist in industrial organization which reviews much experimentation which has been conducted in the field of industrial psychology, particularly in the realm of morale, placement, personnel administration, training, human engineering, job descriptions, and other pertinent factors.

66 Social Psychology.

3 s.h.

Introductory investigation of the behavior of the individual in society. The behavior of groups is critically examined in light of contributions of anthropology, sociology, physiology, psychology, psychiatry. Investigation of group structure and the development of leadership in a group. Methods of measuring and effecting social behavior. Some empirical work required.

71 Theories of Personality.

3 s.h.

A survey of theories of personality.

72 Abnormal Psychology.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Psychology 51.

History of thinking concerning origins of abnormal behavior, current conceptions of etiology, treatment and prognosis of abnormal phenomena including mental deficiencies, neuroses, character disorders, and the major psychoses. Several field trips are required during the semester.

73 Systems of Psychology.

3 s.h.

Discussion of early systems of philosophy and psychology and their integration into present day psychology.

80 Senior Seminar.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Senior status and instructor's permission.

Individual study and investigation of problems of interest to the individual student.

91 Directed Studies in Psychology.
Independent study of selected topics.

1-3 s.h.

SOCIOLOGY

27 Principles of Sociology.

3 s.h.

A survey of the fundamental concepts, theories, and principles of sociology.

28 Social Problems.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Sociology 27.

A study of the principal problems in modern society to discover forces of disintegration and organization of communal life.

SOCIAL SCIENCES

1, 2 Introduction to the Social Sciences.

3, 3 s.h.

Studies in the nature and correlation of sociology, economics, political science, psychology, and related subjects.

BIOLOGY

Departmental Major

Requirements for the B.A. degree:

A minimum of 29 hours in biology courses including 1-2, 31, 34, 55, 56, and 72. Chemistry 1-2 is also required. Recommended electives: Physics 21-22 or Natural Science 13, additional mathematics and chemistry.

Requirements for the B.S. degree:

A minimum of 33 hours in biology courses including 1-2, 31, 34, 55, 56, and 72. Chemistry 1-2 and Physics 21-22 are also required. Recommended electives: additional mathematics and chemistry, e.g., Chemistry 51-52.

1- 2 General Biology.

4-4 s.h.

Prerequisite to all other courses in biology.

The principles of biology as demonstrated in plant and animal materials.

31 Genetics.

4 s.h.

A study of the principal hereditary mechanics in living organisms. Laboratory experimentations with the fruit fly, Drosophila.

34 Comparative Anatomy.

4 s.h.

A study of phylogenetic relationship in the vertebrates as demonstrated by anatomical features. Laboratory studies of structural patterns in the tissues and organ systems of representative forms.

55 General Physiology.

4 s.h.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 1-2.

A study of the principal physiological mechanisms of living organisms.

56 General Embryology.

4 s.h.

An introduction to the developmental processes in animals through organogeny. Laboratory studies of the early embryology of invertebrates and vertebrates.

58 Histology

4 s.h.

Prerequisite: Biology 34.

Fundamentals of tissue organization and microscopic anatomy of the mammalian animal; laboratory studies emphasizing elementary techniques used in the preparation of tissues for microscopic study.

61 Invertebrate Zoology.

4 s.h.

Lectures, field and laboratory studies of the invertebrates exclusive of protozoa. Emphasis on behavior, ecology and structure of representative forms from major and minor phyla.

64 Vertebrate Zoology.

4 s.h.

A study of the vertebrates with emphasis on natural history, ecological adaptations and classification. Field and laboratory investigations of species native to North Carolina.

72 Seminar.

1 s.h.

Prerequisite: 16 hours in biology courses.

Discussions, readings, and reports of current research and topics of importance to biologists.

CHEMISTRY

Departmental Major

Requirements for the B.A. degree:

A minimum of 27 hours in chemistry courses including 1-2, 21, 51-52, 64, 82, and 72 or 73. Physics 21-22 is also required. Recommended: the foreign language requirements be met in either French or German.

Requirements for the B.S. degree:

A minimum of 37 hours in chemistry courses including 1-2, 21, 22, 51-52, 61-62, 82, and 71 or 72 or 73. Physics 21-22 is also required. Recommended: the foreign language requirements be met in either French or German.

1- 2 General Inorganic Chemistry.

4-4 s.h.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 11.

An introduction to the basic principles of inorganic chemistry. A study of the compounds of the more common elements; their structure, properties, and preparation. Laboratory work in the second semester includes the qualitative analysis scheme.

21 Introduction to Analytical Chemistry.

3 s.h.

A study of solutions of electrolytes. Various basic methods of analysis will be introduced. Included will be: gravimetric, volumetric, and some simple colorimetric methods. Also, the laboratory will include experiments on the equilibria of electrolyte solutions.

22 Quantitative Analysis.

4 s.h.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 21.

A study of the theory and methods of classical gravimetric and volumetric analysis including laboratory work in more modern methods such as colorimetry, and basic electrical methods including conductivity and potentiometry.

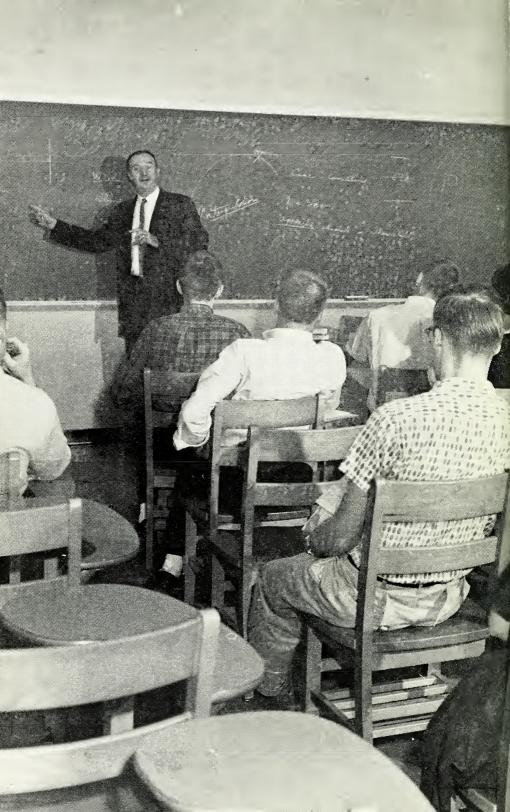

51-52 Organic Chemistry.

4-4 s.h.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 1-2.

A study of aliphatic and aromatic compounds with laboratory exercises to illustrate the more important characteristic reactions of the various types of compounds and methods of preparation.

61-62	Physical	Chemistry.
-------	----------	------------

4-4 s.h.

Prerequisite: Chemistry 22, Mathematics 61.

A study of the theoretical principles of chemistry.

64 Introduction to Physical Chemistry.

4 s.h.

Introduction to the theoretical concepts of chemical phenomena.

71 Advanced Quantitative Analysis.

3 s.h.

A study of more recent methods of analysis. Experiments will include optical and electrical means of analysis.

72 Advanced Inorganic Chemistry.

3 s.h.

A study of the structure and reactions of inorganic compounds.

73 Qualitative Organic Analysis.

3 s.h.

Classification of organic compounds with respect to their characteristic reactions and physical properties; identification by means of derivatives.

82 Seminar.

2 s.h.

An introduction to the basic reference works in the various areas of chemistry. Students will conduct simple literature surveys and prepare short papers for presentation to the class.

MATHEMATICS

Departmental Major

Requirements for the B.A. degree:

A minimum of 31 hours in mathematics courses including 26, 32, and five courses above 49.

Requirements for the B.S. degree:

A minimum of 34 hours in mathematics courses including 26 and 92. In addition the language requirement must be met in either French or German.

1 Intermediate Algebra.

No credit

Prerequisite: One unit of high school algebra. Elementary topics in algebra.

9 Introduction to Modern Mathematics.

4 s.h.

Brief introduction to logic. Introduction to precise definitions and mathematical proofs through the medium of set algebra and elementary field theory. Applications of this theory to the field of real numbers together with definitions and theorems concerning absolute value, integral exponents, and radicals.

11 College Algebra.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Proven proficiency.

Advanced topics in algebra including functions and graphs, systems of equations involving quadratics, progressions, mathematical induction, logarithms, permutations and combinations, and probability.

12 Plane Trigonometry.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 11 or proven proficiency.

Principles and functions of trigonometry including the solution of right triangles and obtuse triangles by natural trigonometric functions and by logs of trigonometric functions. Laws of sines, cosines, tangents will be included; also, De Moivre's theorem.

13 College Algebra and Trigonometry.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 9 or proven proficiency.

A one-semester course combining advanced topics in algebra and the principles and functions of plane trigonometry. Open to students with sufficient high school mathematics as determined by a mathematics placement test.

25, 26 Calculus and Analytic Geometry.

3, 3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 12 or 13, or proven proficiency.

An integrated treatment of analytic geometry, differential calculus, and integral calculus. The following topics will be included: Conics, limits, derivations, maxima and minima, methods of integration, moments, and centroids.

32 Elementary Point Set Theory.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 9.

A careful study of the real number system. An introduction to point sets on the line, in the plane and in n-dimensional space; and an introduction to the study of functions on these spaces. This course is specifically designed to serve as direct preparation for Mathematics 81, 82.

61, 62 Applied Calculus.

3, 3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 26.

This course is specifically designed to cover those topics on the calculus which are essential to the study of upper level courses in other areas, particularly physics. The following topics will be included: Vectors, partial differentiation, multiple integrals and Jacobians, power series, line and surface integrals, Green's theorem, Stokes' theorem, and improper integrals.

63, 64 Probability and Statistics.

3, 3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 26 and instructor's approval.

Permutations and combinations, total and compound probability, Bayes' formula, Bernoulli's theorem, discrete distributions, confidence limits, tests of hypotheses, and analysis of variance.

65 Elementary Differential Equations.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 28.

Solution of differential equations of elementary types; formation and integration of equations arising in applications.

71,72 Modern Algebra.

3, 3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 9.

Groups, integral domains, rings and fields. Isomorphisms. Introduction to matrices and determinants through the medium of vector spaces and linear transformations.

81, 82 Theoretical Calculus.

3, 3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 9, 26.

A rigorous approach to the calculus emphasizing careful language, precise definitions, and fully detailed proofs. The setting is n-dimensional space and topics covered include: Function theory, limit concepts, differentiation, partial differentiation, rectifiable curves, and Riemann-Stieljes integration.

91, 92 Senior Seminar.

3, 3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 72 and 82.

A deeper study of some selected topics from Mathematics 71, 72; an extension of some ideas introduced in Mathematics 81, 82; an introduction to point set topology; a study of some area of mathematics not previously encountered in any other course.

NATURAL SCIENCES

This program is designed to give the non-science major an opportunity to develop a qualitative concept of the major areas of science. While the mathematical treatment of sciences will be held to a minimum, the basic principles of science will be emphasized. The sequence, as presented, will give the student an insight into the development of science as well as the ability to understand and appreciate modern contributions of science. Science majors and entering freshmen who demonstrate adequate preparation, by means of college board scores or mathematics placement tests, are not permitted to satisfy divisional requirements in the natural science sequence.

11 Introduction to Mathematics.

3 s.h.

An introduction to the fundamental working mathematics required for the understanding and presentation of scientific material that will be used in the natural science sequence. Topics to be covered include solution of algebraic equations, graphic representation and interpretation of linear and simple non-linear algebraic equations, exponents and logarithmic functions, ratio and proportion.

12 Introduction to Chemistry.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Natural Science 11 or equivalent.

A qualitative study of selected topics in the basic concepts of chemistry. Introduction to atomic theory and structure, fundamental laws of chemical reactions, chemical bonds, and chemical energy.

13 Introduction to Physics.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Natural Science 11 or equivalent.

An introduction to physics emphasizing the physical principles that are primary to an understanding of the natural world. Approximately equal time will be given to considerations of classical and modern concepts.

14 Introduction to Biology.

3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Natural Science 12 or 13 or equivalent.

A consideration of some basic concepts of biology. An examination of the structure, organization, and control mechanisms within the units that make up living systems—the cell, the individual, and the community. The role of heredity and environment in the perpetuation of the species.

PHYSICS

Departmental Major

Requirements for the B.A. degree:

A minimum of 30 hours in physics courses including 21-22, 51, 53, 61-62, 65-66, and 72. Mathematics 25, 26, 61, 62, and 65 and Chemistry 1-2 are also required. Recommended electives: advanced mathematics, e.g., Mathematics 63, 64, 81, 82, and Biology 1-2. The foreign language requirement should be met in either French or German.

Requirements for the B.S. degree:

A minimum of 36 hours in physics courses including 21-22, 51, 52, 53, 61-62, 64, 65-66, and 72. Mathematics 25, 26, 61, 62, and 65, and Chemistry 1-2 are also required. Recommended electives: advanced mathematics and Biology 1-2. The foreign language requirement should be met in either French or German.

21-22 General Physics.

4-4 s.h.

Prerequisite: Mathematics 25 or equivalent.

An introduction to classical physics with reference to modern applications. Principles of mechanics, heat, light, sound, electricity, magnetism, and modern physics.

51, 52 Mechanics.

3, 3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Physics 21-22 and Mathematics 62.

Introduction to the elements of classical mechanics including vector analysis, particle and rigid body dynamics, statics, and rotary motion. Mathematics 51 is to be taken concurrently.

53 Optics.

4 s.h.

Prerequisite: Physics 21-22 and Mathematics 62.

Study of light and geometrical and physical optics including a treatment of lenses, aberrations, interference, diffraction and refraction, polarization and electromagnetic nature of light.

61-62 Electricity and Magnetism.

4-4 s.h.

Prerequisite: Physics 51, 52.

Introduction study of the electromagnetic theory including electrostatics, metallic conductors, magnetic fields and magnetic materials, electromagnetic radiation.

64 Thermodynamics and Kinetic Theory.

 $3 \, \mathrm{s.h.}$

Prerequisite: Physics 51, 52.

A study of heat and the kinetic theory of gases.

65-66 Modern Physics.

3-3 s.h.

Prerequisite: Physics 51, 52.

A study of atomic and nuclear physics including the special theory of relativity and elementary quantum mechanics.

72 Seminar.

1 s.h.

Prerequisite: Senior status.

Visiting lecturers; faculty and students will join in discussion of selected topics.

REGULAR CHARGES

Each student pays in tuition and fees only a portion of the total cost of his college education. The Methodist Church, the Rocky Mount community, and the loyal supporters of the college share in the cost to provide highest quality education at the lowest possible cost.

Tuition and academic fees for 1965-66 will be $550, covering all related academic charges and laboratory fees for the standard college program. An additional $100 comprehensive fee for the year will cover cost of publications, health and accident insurance, other general fees, and activities.

Rooms will rent for $200 ($100 a semester) for double occupancy. A few single and suite rooms may be available; if so, the charge will be $125 a semester. Rooms are furnished with single beds, dressers or chests, desks, and chairs. Students are expected to furnish their own pillows, bed linens, blankets, towels, curtains, and room decorations.

Board in the college cafeteria will cost $500 ($250 a semester). Day students may dine in the cafeteria or coffee shop at reasonable prices.

Textbooks and instructional material, costing about $35-50 each semester, are sold at standard prices in the college bookstore.

SPECIAL FEES AND CHARGES

Applied Music Fees: Students taking private music lessons will be charged $37.50 a semester for ½ hour instruction weekly and equivalent practice time; for one semester hour (two ½-hour periods of instruction weekly) the charge will be $70. Should a student give notice and discontinue private instruction before mid-term, he will be entitled to a refund for all remaining lessons. This refund will be prorated. After mid-term, no refunds will be made.

Additional Semester Hour Fee: Seventeen semester hours (17 s.h.) is the standard maximum. Additional hours will be charged at the rate of $16 a semester hour, except for applied music and music activities (choir, band, ensemble) hours.

Special Student Fees: Special students registering for credit courses will be charged $20 for each semester hour taken. In addition, those special students registering for 7 s.h. or more will be charged the full comprehensive fee of $50 a semester. Those registering for 6 s.h. or less will be charged a partial comprehensive fee of $10 a semester.

Auditing Fee: Students and others may be permitted to audit courses for no credit at a charge of $12 a semester hour. Regular students may carry up to 17 hours combined for credit and non-credit without additional charge. All non-credit hours taken over this maximum will be charged at the auditing fee of $12. To audit a course the student is required to have the permission of the instructor and the approval of the dean.

Late Registration Fee: A late registration fee of $5 will be charged those who complete their registration after the beginning of the first class each semester. Registration is completed only upon issuance of identification card by the business office. If a delay results from circumstances clearly beyond the student's control, an appeal to waive this fee may be made in writing to the dean.

Graduation Fee: An application for graduation must be made to the dean within 30 days after registration for the final semester. A fee of $15 is payable at that time to cover the cost of diploma and rental of cap and gown.

Transcript Fee: One copy of the official transcript of academic credit will be furnished free. Additional transcripts will cost $1 each.

WITHDRAWALS AND REFUNDS

Students who officially withdraw from school after registration will receive refunds as follows: Those who withdraw within the first two weeks of classes will be refunded 80% of all regular charges paid; within the third or fourth week, 60%; within the fifth or sixth week, 40%; after six weeks the student will be entitled to no refund.

DEFERRED PAYMENTS

Each semester's charges are due and payable on the day of registration. If deferred payments are necessary, these arrangements must be made with the business office well in advance of registration. Practical financial assistance is available, including tuition plans. Write the business office for additional information on these plans.

ADVANCE DEPOSITS

An advance deposit of $25 is required from each accepted applicant within 30 days after notice of acceptance (but no later than September 1). This deposit is applied against the applicant's first payment when he enters North Carolina Wesleyan College. It is refunded if the applicant withdraws his application before May 31, or if the applicant is not accepted for admission.

ROOM RESERVATIONS

Upon notice of acceptance, an applicant for residence should immediately request a room reservation, accompanied by a $15 deposit. Unless these are received within 30 days, space cannot be assured. Room assignments are made by the housing officers. The right to occupy a room is not transferable. The college requires a $1 key deposit. Any damage to rooms or other college property must be paid by the person responsible.

A student who plans to return and who desires to retain his room, or to be assigned a different room for the next academic year, must make a room deposit of $15 with the business office. He should also file a room reservation form with the director of student life within 30 days after pre-registration, but no later than August 1. A returning student will be given preference in room assignment, but priority will be determined by the date his deposit is received.

Any room deposit is credited to the account at the time of registration. It is not refundable on cancellations made after September 1 for the fall semester, or January 15 for the spring semester.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Wesleyan encourages competent students with good personal qualities to apply for scholarships. Two general types are available: tuition scholarships which are provided by the college and endowed scholarships provided by private funds but usually administered by the college under the following regular stipulations governing all grants:

1. Only students who have made application for admission or who are now enrolled in the college will be considered.

2. All scholarships are awarded for one year by the Financial Aid Committee and are to be used exclusively for payment of college fees. One-half of the annual scholarship awarded will be applied to the student's account in the Fall Semester, and one-half in the Spring Semester. The holder of a scholarship may apply for a renewal of his scholarship for the succeeding year.

3. To remain eligible for scholarships or awards, students must maintain a minimum grade of "C" (2.0 quality point average) in academic work and satisfactory records in conduct and character.

4. Students eligible for more than one type of scholarship may elect the scholarship to be awarded, but no student may receive more than one scholarship administered by the college.

5. Any student enrolled for less than 12 semester hours of work in any semester may be entitled to no more than half of the full scholarship, prorated on the amount of work carried.

No grant of scholarship will be made to help defray the expenses of a student enrolled in the Summer Session.

7. In the case of those who do not need financial aid, honorary scholarships with nominal gift grants will be awarded.

The Financial Aid Committee gives special consideration to the children of ministers and missionaries and to candidates for full-time Christian ministry. All of these will ordinarily receive annual awards of $100 or more. The amount is determined after a careful evaluation of the student's need and the total funds available.

All candidates for full-time Christian ministry must be recommended by the proper denominational authorities and present such credentials to the business office before the scholarship described above is granted. These candidates must also sign notes for the amount of the concessions, agreeing to assume indebtedness for all such tuition charges omitted, the same to be repaid to the college in the event the candidate does not enter the ministry. After three years of effective service in the ministry, the notes will be cancelled.

Scholarship examination dates are listed in the academic calendar on pages 4 and 5. Interested students should address requests for reservation blanks to the Financial Aid Committee in care of the college. Those meeting qualifications of the committee will receive an award. Announcements of winners are usually made by early May after all examinations and qualifications have been carefully evaluated.

A partial listing of available scholarships follows:

Wesleyan Award Scholarships: Ten scholarships may be awarded by the college on the basis of academic achievement, good citizenship, and financial need. They range in value up to $2,200 or $550 annually for each of the four years.

Civitan Award: A freshman scholarship of $500 will be awarded to a graduate of a high school in Rocky Mount or immediate environs. This scholarship is awarded on the basis of financial need, leadership ability, and scholastic record. It is made possible through the generosity of the Rocky Mount Civitan Club.

Junior Guild Award: A freshman scholarship of $450 will be awarded on the same basis as the Civitan Award. This scholarship is made possible through the generosity of the Rocky Mount Junior Guild.

Lions Award: Two scholarships of $250 each will be awarded to candidates from the Rocky Mount area. Preference is given to those preparing to enter a field related to helping the visually handicapped. These are made available through the generosity of the Rocky Mount Lions Club.

Credit Women's Award: A scholarship of $200 will be awarded through the generosity of the Rocky Mount Credit Women's Breakfast Club. Preference is given to a young lady planning a career in business.

Pilot Award: A scholarship of $200 will be awarded annually through the generosity of the Rocky Mount Pilot Club. Preference is given to a young lady from Rocky Mount. Financial need is a major consideration.

The John R. Bennett, Jr., Scholarship Award of $200 will be given annually by Priscilla, Jody, and John Bennett in the loving memory of their father.

The William David Boseman and Della Bullock Boseman Educational Fund of approximately $200 annually will assist a boy or girl from Nash or Edgecombe County each year. This trust fund was established by their daughter, Mrs. J. Reese (Molly Boseman) Bailey.

The Alice Bryan Braswell Scholarship Fund was established by Miss Vivian Braswell of Rocky Mount to assist capable and deserving students from the Battleboro area of Nash and Edgecombe Counties.

The Olivia and Chester Bullard Scholarship Fund will provide assistance of $200 annually for one student. This endowment fund was given by Mr. and Mrs. Hackett Applewhite of Raleigh, North Carolina in memory of Mrs. Applewhite's parents.

The Reverend John A. Cooper Memorial Scholarship Award of $100 will be given as a scholarship in music. This award was initiated by Margaret Hodgens and other former parishioners of Rev. Cooper.

First Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service, Rocky Mount, will award a scholarship to an eligible girl, a student from the Methodist Home for Children of Raleigh, or a member of The Methodist Church in the Rocky Mount District. Based on financial need and academic capability, this award ranges from $300 to $600.

James E. Grantham Rotary Scholarship: An endowed award of not less than $200 will be made to a student from Rocky Mount or environs chosen by the college and the Rocky Mount Rotary Club Committee. This scholarship honors the memory of James E. Grantham and was established by the Rotary Club and his family.

The Reverend N. M. Harrison is contributing scholarship assistance for a young man from Halifax County.

The Victor Gray Herring Scholarship of $100 annually will be awarded to a youth from Wayne County. This was established through the generosity of Miss Nellie M. Herring of Kinston, North Carolina.

The Spero Kounouklis Scholarship Fund is an endowed award of $150 annually to honor the memory of Spero Kounouklis, a long-time friend of the youth of Rocky Mount. This fund was established by his many friends as a fitting memorial.

The Matthews-Pritchard Memorial Scholarship will award $100 to a candidate for a full-time church vocation. Preference will be given to a student from Northampton County. This scholarship was established by Mrs. Willie P. Matthews to honor the memory of Charles Gray Matthews and Robert Leroy Pritchard of Seaboard.

The Memorial Scholarship Award of $250 annually is established as a scholarship fund by many small contributions to honor the memory of friends and relatives. Continuing contributions of friends of the college cause this award to grow annually.

The Pittman-Frizzelle College Scholarship Award of $500 is awarded annually, preference being given to a young lady from Greene County. Financial need, scholastic ability, and vocational interest are determining factors. This scholarship is available to a young person for study at North Carolina Wesleyan, Methodist College, or Louisburg College. It is made possible by the endowment gift of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Frizzelle of Maury, North Carolina.

The Anne Mason Ratterman Scholarship Award of $300 will be given, preferably to a youth from the Methodist Home for Children of Raleigh, N. C., upon recommendation by the superintendent. Should there be no one eligible in any year, the scholarship shall be awarded to any other youth from North Carolina named by the president of North Carolina Wesleyan College. This award was established as a living endowment by George Ratterman.

The Oscar and Tommy Taylor Scholarship Fund is a major award to honor the memory of Oscar and Tommy Taylor, sons of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Taylor of Rocky Mount. This scholarship fund has been made possible by the affection and generosity of their many friends.

Woman's Society of Christian Service Scholarships: Three scholarships of $500 each are available annually to single Methodist girls in the North Carolina Annual Conference to attend Louisburg College, Methodist College, or North Carolina Wesleyan College as resident students. These are awarded by the scholarship committee of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the North Carolina Annual Conference, Se.J.

The following scholarships have been initiated with endowed gifts but are not yet available for annual award:

The Mary Taylor Cutchin Scholarship Fund was established by Dr. J. H. Cutchin of Whitakers, North Carolina, to honor his wife.

The John C. Daughtridge Scholarship Fund was established in his memory by many of his friends.

The Orina Garber Scholarship Fund was established by friends in loving memory of Orina Garber, the first wife of Bishop Paul N. Garber of the Richmond Area of The Methodist Church.

The A. J. Hobbs Fund was established in his memory by many of his friends.

The Lewis-Smith Scholarship Fund was established to honor the memory of Billy and Maude Lewis of Oak Grove Methodist Church, Perquimans Circuit, and Reverend J. L. Smith, their beloved pastor. This fund was established by Mildred Lewis Wood, Doris Lewis Kemp, and the Reverend David M. Lewis.

The E. F. Duke Scholarship Fund was established in his memory by his many friends.

The Mary Jo Edwards Scholarship Fund was established in her memory by the family, classmates, and friends. At the time of her death Miss Edwards was a member of the class of '66.

SELF-HELP

Many students find it necessary to earn a part of their expenses while attending college. Employment for a limited number is available on campus — in the dining room, in the library, in the dormitories, and in various offices and academic departments of the college. A few find employment in the Rocky Mount community.

Compensation varies with the character and amount of service rendered, but usually ranges from $150 to $350 for the academic year. The Financial Aid Committee will assist interested applicants in planning a self-help program. Available appointments will be made on the basis of ability and need.

It is best for one who plans to earn a part of the expenses of his education to begin college with at least enough money to carry him through the first semester. Before the end of that period, he may secure employment which will enable him to pay a part of his expense thereafter.

LOAN FUNDS

The college has funds to lend to students in good academic standing who need assistance to continue their education. Tuition loans are covered by notes that bear no interest while the student is enrolled in the college; interest at the rate of 3% begins with the date of graduation or withdrawal from the college.

The L. C. Cobb Loan Fund operates under the general provisions of funds administered by the college.

The Maynard O. Fletcher Loan Fund was established in his honor in 1963 by the Women's Bible Class of the First Methodist Church, Washington, N. C., to assist worthy students under the general provisions of funds administered by the college.

The Rocky Mount Kiwanis Loan Fund was initiated in 1960 with a donation of $2,000 by the club.

The Littleton College Memorial Fund was established in 1961 by alumnae of Littleton College to assist worthy students under the general provisions of funds administered by the college. Two memorial loan funds have been designated within the Littleton College Memorial Fund. These are: the Vara Herring Memorial Fund and the Emma Thornton Nowell Memorial Fund. The Fund now exceeds $3,000.

The James R. and Frances Morris Loan Fund was established in their memory by Cecil and Brantley Morris of Atlantic, North Carolina. Preference will be given to a Carteret County student.

The Rocky Mount Rotary Loan Fund was initiated in 1960 with a donation of $1,000 by the club.

The National Defense Student Loan Fund, popularly known as NDEA, was established by the National Defense Act of 1958 to enable qualified students to pursue a college education when they might not be able to do so without financial assistance. It provides loans up to $1,000 per year, at 3% interest, payable over the period of 10 years, and gives certain scholarship benefits, such as forgiveness of 10% principal and interest for each year's service as a public school teacher up to five years.

The Scholarship Loan Fund for Prospective Teachers was established by the State of North Carolina to aid students preparing to teach in the public schools. Loans may be granted up to $350 per year, and each year's loan may be cancelled by a year of teaching service within seven years after the completion of the use of each loan. Applications should be made directly to: State Department of Public Instruction, Raleigh, North Carolina.

North Carolina Bankers' Student Loan Plan is the outgrowth of the College Foundation, Incorporated, established to administer a cooperative student loan fund provided by the State of North Carolina and various participating banks. Any North Carolina citizen who is granted admission to Wesleyan is considered eligible to apply for funds. The maximum loan is $500 per year at 5% interest. No repayment is required while the borrower is in school. Upon graduation, he is given up to four years to repay the loan.

The Methodist Student Loan Fund is available to any Methodist student enrolled at Wesleyan as a full-time degree candidate. Any qualified student may borrow a maximum of $2,000 during his educational program. Such loans are repayable in monthly installments beginning not later than six months following graduation or withdrawal from college. Interest on loans is computed at 1% per annum while the borrower is in school and 3% per annum thereafter until the note is paid in full.

In addition to the funds administered by the college, various commercial loan and deferred payment plans are available.

All requests for financial aid information and assistance should be made to the Financial Aid Committee. This committee will make every effort to help qualified students and their parents work out satisfactory solutions to their college-related financial problems.

All persons in Nash and Edgecombe Counties who contributed to the establishment of Wesleyan through pledges, direct gifts, or service and those who have since contributed to its support are considered members of the Rocky Mount Area Wesleyan College Foundation.

Following the joyous conclusion of the fund-raising campaign which pledged $2 million on an announced goal of $1.75 million, the Rocky Mount College Committee, under the chairmanship of Ray Bandy, organized the foundation to collect building fund pledges, to secure annual contributions of $50,000 toward current operations, and to otherwise support the new college.

FOUNDERS

All of the 3,513 persons in the Rocky Mount area who made pledges in the original campaign are founders of North Carolina Wesleyan College. Each year Founders' Day is celebrated on the campus on October 25, the anniversary of the day in 1956 when the State of North Carolina granted Wesleyan its charter. On that day homage is paid to these far-sighted Nash and Edgecombe County citizens whose faith and generosity established the college.

ALUMNI

At the Senior Class Luncheon held on Commencement Day, May 31, 1964, members of Wesleyan's first graduating class appointed an alumni committee with Admissions Counselor William J. Garlow as secretary. He will work with other class members residing in the college area and with college officials to plan a permanent organization. Their proposal will be presented to the alumni at their first banquet meeting scheduled for June 1, 1965. All former students, non-graduates as well as the new graduates, are expected to form into an association to promote college interests and foster devotion to alma mater.

HONORARY ALUMNI

By action of the Board of Trustees and in cooperation with the Rocky Mount Area Wesleyan College Foundation, those individuals and firms who have made substantial unrestricted contributions to the continuing support or sustaining fund of the college have been designated Honorary Alumni.

At the first Honors Convocation May 15, 1962, formal recognition was made of 176 members of the Honorary Alumni Association. Each was awarded a suitably engraved "diploma." Additional members have been and will continue to be recognized at annual convocations. The total membership on March 31, 1964, had increased to 346.

LITTLETON COLLEGE ALUMNAE

In 1919 Littleton College, founded in 1882, was destroyed by fire. It was not rebuilt, bringing an end to this small Methodist-related woman's college, located some 30 miles northwest of Wesleyan's campus. In the late 1920's, due largely to efforts of the late Miss Vara L. Herring, of Raleigh, the Littleton College Memorial Association was formed. In 1961 this association and its members were "adopted" by Wesleyan.

A collection of several hundred books and a quantity of memorabilia of Littleton College have been presented to the library of North Carolina Wesleyan. The Association has also initiated a Littleton College Memorial Fund from which two loan funds have been established at Wesleyan, honoring alumnae Vara Herring and Emma Thornton Nowell.

Annual July reunions have been held since 1961 in Garber Chapel on Wesleyan's campus. More than a hundred alumnae and friends join in the day's celebration and reminiscing. The memorial loan fund continues to grow and is given a promotional boost at these meetings. Mrs. Lula M. Usher, 510 N. Lincoln St., Arlington 1, Virginia, is secretary. A permanent roster and mailing list is maintained at Wesleyan that the college might enable the association to keep in touch with its membership.

PARENTS

It is the aim of Wesleyan to enter into full partnership with all parents the day their son or daughter is granted admission. Through mutual understanding and involvement between parents and college, effort will be made to bring the students to full Christian maturity in mind, body, and soul.

OTHER BENEFACTORS

A host of benefactors have contributed to Wesleyan's growth. To all of these Wesleyan acknowledges its great debt. Without such benefactors, no private college can hope to meet the needs of an ever-increasing student population.

A special tribute should be paid to the thousands of Methodists and their ministers of the North Carolina Annual Conference. They accepted the challenge of the Rocky Mount area to support and operate the college. With their continued interest and support, Wesleyan is assured a growing field of influence in educating citizens for the future.

BEQUESTS

In making a gift to Wesleyan by will this form is suggested:

"I give and bequeath to North Carolina Wesleyan College, Incorporated, Rocky Mount, North Carolina, the sum ofdollars solely for the use of the said college in whatever way or manner the trustees of the college deem best."

The lawyer who prepares the will or a codicil thereto should be given this form, so that he will know the correct corporate name to which the bequest is made. He can then make appropriate modifications if the gift is a residue or share therein, if it is of real estate, if there are to be any restrictions or conditions upon the gift, or if the gift is to be given for a specific purpose.

MAJOR MEMORIALS

By action of the Board of Trustees certain buildings and areas have been named in honor of those whose services and contributions have helped to make Wesleyan possible. These are:

Braswell Administration Building — the families of J. C. Braswell and M. C. Braswell

The Gravely Science Building - the Gravely family

The Pearsall Classroom Building — Thomas J. Pearsall

The Horne Faculty Office Wing - Josh L. Horne

The Lea Faculty Office Wing - W. B. Lea

Garber Chapel - Bishop Paul N. Garber

Tyler Drive, entrance and circle - Arthur L. Tyler

The Bandy Plaza, parking area behind Edgecombe Hall — Ray Bandy

The Spruill Infirmary — the Frank Parker Spruill family

At their Founders' Day meeting in 1962, the trustees honored the thousands of citizens of the twin counties who founded North Carolina Wesleyan College by naming the first women's dormitory, Nash Hall, and the men's, Edgecombe Hall.

NEEDS OF THE COLLEGE

Immediate needs of the college are:

Swimming Pool $200,000	Endowment $500,00	0
Library $350,000	Auditorium $500,00	0

Funds paid through the Methodist College Development Crusade will assure continued progress when added to the uncollected pledges held by the Rocky Mount Area Wesleyan Foundation. As these are collected, the building program will approach its goal of facilities for 600 students by 1968. The first available funds have been marked for the library. A constant drive will be maintained so that building progress will not lag behind the demands of the healthy increase in enrollment.

In addition to the foregoing primary needs, a few others are:

Endowed Professorships Scholarships Loan Funds A Chapel Bell Tower Greenhouse

The president is always happy to discuss any gifts or memorials with donors. Donations of books, recordings, and art collections that are appropriate and non-duplicating will be welcomed.
